A Message from Nebraska Director of Athletics Shawn Eichorst

Dear Husker Fans,

Thank you for your continued support of the Nebraska football program.

We celebrated 50 years of consecutive sellouts in 2012, and yet the 2013 season will have historical significance of its own. This fall, we will complete the East Stadium Expansion Project, allowing for 92,000 enthusiastic Husker fans to join us inside Memorial Stadium on Saturdays this fall.

We all should take pride in the innovative 52,000-square-foot East Stadium Research Facility that will be home to the Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) and the Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3). Long a dream of visionaries Chancellor Harvey Perlman, Coach Tom Osborne and others, the East Stadium partnership between academics and athletics is believed to be the first on-campus, shared academic/athletic research facility in the history of intercollegiate athletics.

All of our student-athletes, coaches, staff and administrators work tirelessly year-round to exceed Nebraska's high academic and athletic standards and we do this with our core values – Integrity, Trust, Respect, Teamwork and Loyalty – at the heart of everything that we do.

As we embrace the competitive challenge of another year in the nation's oldest and best intercollegiate athletic conference, we ask you to uphold Nebraska's great tradition of treating opposing coaches, players, officials and fans with the utmost of respect. Thank you and Go Big Red!

Go Huskers!

Shawn

A Message from Big Ten Conference Commissioner James Delany

Dear Big Ten Fans:

On behalf of the Big Ten and its member institutions, I would like to thank you for your ongoing support of the conference's teams and student-athletes. The Big Ten has historically produced some of the country's top programs, winning at least six team national championships in each of the last five seasons, and seven national championships last year.

One of the core principles of the conference has been its commitment to broad-based programming. This year, the Big Ten will provide athletic and academic opportunities for more than 8,200 student-athletes on more than 300 teams in 42 different sports. In its history, the conference has sent almost 1,400 student-athletes to the Olympics, winning 460 medals, including nearly 250 gold medals.

As part of its commitment to developing well-rounded student-athletes, the conference annually honors two individuals from each campus with the Big Ten Medal of Honor. First awarded in 1915, the conference will award the 100th Medal of Honor in 2014. The Medal of Honor pays tribute to outstanding senior student-athletes who demonstrate excellence in both academics and athletics.

It is with this foundation of academic and athletic excellence that the conference and its member institutions strive to build our nation's future leaders. Big Ten coaches and student-athletes are working very hard to earn their place in Big Ten history, and we encourage our fans to support these endeavors. Cheer for your team, revel in victory and be gracious in defeat.

These student-athletes hope to become champions today, joining the distinguished company of past victors. We thank you for your support of their mission and ask for your ongoing encouragement in their pursuit of future aspirations.

Sincerely,

James E. Delany
Big Ten Commissioner

The Nebraska Athletic Department welcomes more than 5,000 new season-ticket holders to Memorial Stadium this fall as part of the East Stadium expansion. In addition to increased seating that will push the average attendance to approximately 92,000, the expansion includes 52,000 square feet of research area for the Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) and the UNL Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3).

Nebraska kicks off its 124th season of football tonight against Wyoming inside a newly renovated Memorial Stadium. The Huskers, ranked 18th in the preseason Associated Press top 25, are coming off a 10-4 campaign in 2012, when they joined Alabama, Boise State and Oregon as the only teams in the country to win nine-or-more games in each of the past five seasons.

The Huskers have their sights set on a conference championship this fall, after making three appearances in a conference championship game in the past four seasons. Helping Nebraska reach its goals will be an offense that is expected to rank among the nation's best and a defense that while young, possesses plenty of talent, speed and athleticism.

The Husker offense is headlined by a trio of talented skill players in senior quarterback Taylor Martinez, junior I-back Ameer Abdullah and junior wide receiver Kenny Bell.

In 2012, the Husker offense set an NU record with 330 first downs while ranking second in school history with 6,451 yards of total offense. Nebraska returns 84 percent of its total offense from 2012, when the Huskers led the Big Ten and ranked 15th nationally by averaging 460.8 yards per game. The Huskers also return 55 percent of their scoring from 2012, bringing back players who accounted for 44 of their Big Ten-leading 61 touchdowns last fall.

Nebraska will feature one of the nation's most dynamic groups of skill players in 2013. Martinez is the nation's top returning rusher regardless of position, and he ranks third nationally among all returning players in career total offense and ninth in career passing yards. A coaches' first-team All-Big Ten selection in 2012, Martinez is one of only four players in NCAA FBS history to enter his senior season with 6,000 career passing yards and 2,500 career rushing yards.

Abdullah, a second-team All-Big Ten pick, led Nebraska with 1,137 rushing yards in 2012, the sixth-highest sophomore total in school history. Abdullah accounted for 1,884 all-purpose yards last fall, the second-highest total by a sophomore in school history and the sixth-highest total overall.

Bell set Husker sophomore records with 50 catches, 863 receiving yards and eight touchdown grabs in 2012. A first-team All-Big Ten selection, Bell also posted top-five overall marks in each category, while becoming the second-fastest Husker to reach 1,000 career receiving yards.

Together, the trio highlight an explosive and balanced Husker offense. Nebraska is one of only three teams this season with a roster featuring a 5,000-yard career passer, a 1,000-yard career receiver and two 1,000-yard career rushers. The Huskers are also one of just four teams in the FBS ranks to feature a 5,000-yard career passer, a 2,000-yard career rusher and a 1,000-yard career receiver.

While the Husker offense brings back plenty of proven production, the defense will rely on promising potential from its younger players. The unit must replace seven senior starters from last fall, but Nebraska does return a total of 10 players who earned at least one start in 2012.

The 2013 defense is led by a nucleus of five players who were in the starting lineup together six times last season. Included in those six games were holding a potent Arkansas State offense to a season-low point total, limiting both Michigan and Minnesota to fewer than 100 yards passing and rushing and holding a ranked Northwestern squad to just 14 first downs.

Nebraska is one of only three teams in the country with a 5,000-yard career passer (Taylor Martinez, left), a 1,000-yard receiver (Kenny Bell, right) and two 1,000-yard rushers (Martinez and Ameer Abdullah, middle).

The strength of the 2013 Husker defense will be the secondary, the most experienced position group. Nebraska must replace both starting safeties from last fall, but the Huskers return every cornerback who started a game in 2012, a group that includes four players who have combined to start 57 career games.

The secondary is highlighted by senior Ciente Evans, a first-team All-Big Ten pick in 2012 who is one of the league's most versatile defenders. Evans saw action at corner and as the Huskers' nickel back in 2012, totaling 56 tackles, three TFLs, 3.0 sacks, eight pass breakups and one interception, which he returned 29 yards for a touchdown.

While Evans is NU's top returning tackler, senior Andrew Green has started 22 career games in the Husker secondary, the most starts of any Blackshirt. He totaled 50 tackles last fall while breaking up three passes and adding three TFLs.

Senior Stanley Jean-Baptiste and junior Josh Mitchell round out Nebraska's group of talented cornerbacks with starting experience. Jean-Baptiste intercepted a pair of passes and notched nine other pass breakups in 2012, while Mitchell added five pass breakups and 29 tackles.

At linebacker, Nebraska must replace all three starters. Aiding that transition will be the return of Zaire Anderson, a junior college All-American who played in just three games as a newcomer in 2012 before suffering a season-ending injury. Sophomore David Santos brings play-making potential to the linebacking corps, as he recorded 10 tackles and earned Big Ten Freshman-of-the-Week honors in his only start of the 2012 season against Michigan. Talented freshmen, such as Jared Afalava and Michael Rose, will also have their chance to contribute this fall.

Up front, senior Jason Ankrah returns to anchor the defensive line after posting two sacks and six TFLs from his defensive end spot in 2012. Classmate Thad Randle, underclassmen Aaron Curry, Greg McMullen, Avery Moss and Kevin Williams and several talented newcomers, notably Randy Gregory, will add depth to a defensive line that has produced an All-American in two of the last four years.

The Numbers Game

27 Nebraska has won its season opener for 27 straight seasons, the longest streak in the nation. The Huskers have not lost a season opener since a 17-13 setback to Florida State in 1985.

8 Nebraska has won eight consecutive home games, tied for the sixth-longest home winning streak in the country. The streak included a perfect 7-0 home record last fall, a first for the program since 2001.

2 For the first time in school history, Nebraska returns a pair of 1,000-yard rushers. I-back Ameer Abdullah led the Huskers with 1,137 rushing yards in 2012, while quarterback Taylor Martinez added 1,019 yards.

Players to Watch

N Quarterback Taylor Martinez is starting his fourth consecutive season opener, becoming the first Husker quarterback to start four season openers. Martinez, who owns NU's career total offense and passing records, is the nation's top returning rusher with 2,858 career rushing yards. He also ranks third in career total offense (9,449) and ninth in passing yards (6,591).

Junior quarterback Brett Smith battled through injuries last season to rank fifth nationally by generating 20.2 points per game, a total that trails only Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Manziel of Texas A&M and Clemson's Tajh Boyd among current players. Smith also ranked 11th nationally in passing efficiency in 2012, 16th in total offense and 21st in passing yards.

Memorial Stadium Features New Look in its 90th Season

Memorial Stadium will celebrate its 90th anniversary as Nebraska's home stadium this October, and one of the "Cathedrals of College Football" according to the Sporting News has a fresh look for 2013. The east side of the stadium has been expanded and features more than 5,000 new seats - including a combination of club seats, suites and general public seating - which will push Nebraska's average attendance beyond 90,000.

The addition includes dedicated areas on the ground floor for research, both for Athletics and UNL Research. The 50,000-square foot research area is a unique collaboration between Athletics and Academics. The Nebraska Athletic Performance Lab will be housed on the north end of the facility, and will be operated by the Athletic Department. The Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior will be housed in the south half of the facility.

Along with the additions on the East Stadium, fans will notice a new FieldTurf playing surface at Memorial Stadium. In addition to an attractive design, the new FieldTurf won't absorb nearly as much heat as the previous field, allowing for a cooler playing surface. The new surface also features "Tom Osborne Field" on both sidelines, honoring the Hall of Fame coach and former Husker Athletic Director.

Huskers Look to Win Season Opener for 27th Straight Season

Nebraska will look to continue a nation-leading win streak tonight against Wyoming. Last year's 49-20 win over Southern Miss marked the Huskers' 27th straight victory in a season opener. The streak leads the nation, bettering Florida's 23 straight season-opening victories.

The Huskers have won each of their last 27 season openers by 10 or more points, and have scored 40 or more points in the opener 20 of the past 27 seasons, including seven straight. In the win streak, NU has limited opponents to 14 points or less 18 times. Overall, Nebraska owns a 91-26-5 all-time record in season openers (.766 winning percentage). The Huskers are 61-22-4 (.724 winning percentage) in season openers at Memorial Stadium, dating back to 1924.

A Look at Major Rules Changes for 2013

Among the major rule changes the NCAA has implemented for the 2013 season, here are two significant changes. First, players will automatically be disqualified from the game for targeting fouls, including initiating contact with the helmet or hitting a defenseless player in the head or neck area. Previously, the penalty was 15 yards, but it now includes an automatic ejection. The ejection - not the foul - is subject to video review. Second, the NCAA has established that teams will need a minimum of three seconds from the referee's signal to spike the ball and allow for another play. If the clock shows one or two seconds, the team will only have enough time to run a play without first spiking the ball.

Nebraska Note of the Week

The inaugural 2013 Nebraska Note of the Week focuses on the Huskers' success under sixth-year Head Coach Bo Pelini. Pelini has guided Nebraska to 48 wins in his first five full seasons on the Husker sideline, winning at least nine games every year. His 48 wins in five seasons rank as the 13th-most victories among first-time head coaches since 1900. Pelini has won seven more games than any other coach in the 2008 hiring class, and he has guided Nebraska to three conference championship games and four division titles in five seasons.

Wyoming battled through injuries to post a 4-8 record in 2012. The Cowboys return 15 total starters this fall, including seven on offense, seven on defense and their returning place-kicker.

Offensively, Wyoming returns the majority of its production from last season. The unit is led by quarterback Brett Smith, who completed better than 62 percent of his passes last season while throwing for 2,837 yards and 27 touchdowns in only 10 games. Despite injuries, Smith ranked 11th nationally in passing efficiency and 16th in total offense in 2012. Four of his top five receiving targets from last season return, including Robert Herron, who averaged 21.2 yards per game and grabbed eight touchdowns. On the ground, Wyoming returns its top three rushers from 2012.

Defensively, Wyoming was among the 15 worst teams in rushing defense (117th) and pass efficiency defense (108th) in 2012, while ranking 106th in total defense and 97th in scoring defense. The Cowboys return seven starters from 2012, but must replace their three leading tacklers who combined for 292 tackles and recorded 21 of Wyoming's 51 tackles for loss.

Series History

Nebraska is a perfect 6-0 against Wyoming, including a 3-0 record in season openers and a 4-0 mark in home openers. The Huskers also opened their season against Wyoming in 1934 (50-0), 1968 (13-10) and 1984 (42-7), while NU's 56-20 victory in 1983 marked Nebraska's first home game of the season. Five of the six all-time meetings have been played at Memorial Stadium, with the exception being Nebraska's 38-14 win in Laramie in the most recent meeting in 2011.

NU has won five of the six all-time meetings by double digits, as the average score in the series is 40-14. Nebraska has also scored more than 40 points four times in the six meetings, including four of the five games at Memorial Stadium.

The closest the Cowboys have come to knocking off the Huskers came in 1968. Wyoming scored 10 points in the first nine minutes of the game, only to see the Huskers score the game's final 13 points, including a fourth-quarter touchdown and a Paul Rogers' 51-yard game-winning field goal with 21 seconds left.

That 1968 contest opened Bob Devaney's seventh season on the Husker sideline. The Hall of Fame coach won 12 Big Eight crowns and two national titles at Nebraska, after compiling a 35-10-5 record and winning four conference championships at Wyoming from 1957 to 1961.

Wyoming Head Coach Dave Christensen

Dave Christensen is beginning his fifth season at Wyoming, where he owns a 22-28 overall record in his first head coaching job. Christensen is 0-1 against Nebraska, as the Huskers defeated the Cowboys 38-14 in Laramie in 2011. But Christensen has enjoyed success against Nebraska, posting a 4-4 record against the Huskers while he was an assistant at Missouri from 2001 to 2008. The last time he coached inside Memorial Stadium, Missouri defeated Nebraska, 52-17.

Wyoming has finished with a winning record in two of Christensen's first five seasons after the Cowboys posted just one winning season in the nine years before his arrival. Wyoming appeared in the New Mexico Bowl in Christensen's first season in 2009, then posted an 8-5 record in 2011 that included the program's most victories since 1998 and just the second winning conference season since 2000. The Cowboys hoped to build off the 2011 success for a strong 2012 season, but a flurry of injuries contributed to Wyoming's 4-8 record last fall.

In addition to his eight years as the offensive coordinator at Missouri, Christensen also spent four years as the offensive coordinator at Toledo from 1997 to 2000. He spent nine total years at Toledo, following his first full-time collegiate coaching job at Idaho State from 1990 to 1991.

JEREMIAH SIRLES

"He is a coach on the field. We give offensive linemen a test before each game, and he is one of the guys who fills out every position – he knows what everyone's doing. He is very intelligent and extremely conscientious of his work, and we know will give us everything he's got at all times."

--Offensive Line Coach John Garrison

6-6 | 310 | OL
LAKEWOOD, COLO.

By Chris Roekle, Nebraska Media Relations

Nora Sirles hesitated to sign the permission slip for her son Jeremiah to participate in competitive football at a young age. Her motherly instincts took over as she feared for his safety in the high contact sport.

After much convincing from husband Phil, Nora signed the waiver allowing Jeremiah to suit up for the Alameda Buffaloes in fourth grade. His parents instantly realized their son was not the one in danger.

"It turned quickly from 'Jeremiah, you're going to get hurt', to 'Jeremiah, don't hurt the other boys,'" joked Jeremiah Sirles.

It became routine habit for the now 6-6, 310-pound offensive lineman to bring his birth certificate to football and basketball games in order to prove his age to the naysayers. Sirles' impressive physical stature has made him an integral part of the Husker offense for the past three seasons, and he is relishing his senior campaign.

"We've been a part of so many different records – the Missouri game where Roy (Helu Jr.) broke the all-time rushing record, the Iowa game where Rex (Burkhead) got the all-time carries record and when Taylor (Martinez) surpassed the all-time total offense record at Michigan State," Sirles said. "To think that all those records have been broken, and we still have another year to play – that's pretty special."

Sirles and his teammates enter the 2013 season licking their chops with only the highest of expectations.

"Everyone wants to win a championship. Three out of the four years I've been here we've been in championship games, and we've come that close," he said. "Just to go out and win one would be a huge stamp on my senior year."

The massive, knowledgeable Big Red fan base as well as the straightforwardness of Head Coach Bo Pelini separated Nebraska from the competition when it came to Sirles' recruiting process.

"I had a meeting with Coach Pelini that lasted a couple of hours, and I could tell how real he was and there were no smoke and mirrors," Sirles, a 2012 second-team All-Big Ten selection, said. "Everyone knew my name as a recruit; I have never met these people and they know who I am – it's a crazy feeling, especially when I'm a high school kid."

"There is no place like Nebraska" is accurate on many levels, and with the spotlight comes expectations.

"Being under the focal point is great, but it can be a challenge and puts a lot of responsibility on our shoulders," he said. "The expectation is to win them all and perfect is what we strive for around here."

Despite his on-the-field accomplishments, Sirles says his proudest accomplishment was earned in the classroom. Sirles earned his bachelor's degree in management with a focus on entrepreneurship last spring. He even attained Dean's List accolades during his final two semesters, a true testament of success and hard work academically.

The Lakewood, Colo., native is determined to succeed after his time with the Huskers is complete, whether he pursues his ultimate goal of playing in the National Football League or going back and getting his MBA in hopes of starting his own company.

Sirles, who started every contest at offensive tackle in both 2010 and 2012, thanks his family and specifically his parents for their love and support throughout the years. He says they have been part of what he has achieved at Nebraska.

As Benjamin Franklin once said, "To succeed, jump as quickly at opportunities as you do at conclusions." Stanley Jean-Baptiste jumped at his opportunity two years ago against Ohio State and success has followed.

On a rainy October night in 2011, Jean-Baptiste was waiting for his opportunity as Nebraska was mounting a second-half comeback from 21 points down against the Buckeyes. On a 2nd-and-6 with 6:29 left, Jean-Baptiste seized his opportunity, intercepting a deep pass that set up Nebraska's game-winning touchdown four plays later.

"Before that play, I was just waiting... waiting for an opportunity to get in (the game), even if it was on special teams," Jean-Baptiste said. "When (the coaches) threw me in, I just went in and they told me to play man-to-man so that is what I did. (Ohio State) tried to pick on me because I was new, and their backup quarterback threw a bad ball.

"That was the play that changed everything for me. It made me real comfortable being on defense."

Making the most of that play would not have been possible had Jean-Baptiste not jumped at another opportunity earlier in his Husker career.

A native of Miami, Jean-Baptiste was a standout wide receiver at Miami Central High School and was a coveted recruit out of Fort Scott (Kan.) Community College. Although many saw his 6-3 frame as ideal for a wide receiver, Jean-Baptiste chose to become a Husker knowing that he may ultimately end up switching to defense.

"I chose Nebraska because of the tradition," he said. "Playing at Fort Scott, I knew that I was going to end up playing defense. Coach Carl (Pelini) was recruiting me and eventually he said he was going to switch me, because he always told me that he wanted me to play defense. But I didn't know when he was going to switch me."

That switch happened in 2011, just a few weeks before his career-changing interception against Ohio State. Jean-Baptiste redshirted in his first year at Nebraska in 2010, when he worked as a scout team wide receiver. He then made a seven-yard reception against Chattanooga in the 2011 season opener, before making the switch to cornerback. The ability to use his size and athleticism on defense - instead of offense - was an opportunity Jean-Baptiste expected and embraced.

He earned his first career start at corner against Minnesota following the Ohio State comeback. He went on to record nine tackles in 2011, before enjoying a breakout season as a junior. Last fall, Jean-Baptiste appeared in all 14 games, earning five starts and leading Nebraska with nine pass breakups, while adding two interceptions. He tied the school record with five pass breakups at Northwestern in 2012.

Confident and comfortable as one NU's top cornerbacks, Jean-Baptiste is ready to make his senior season a special one, according to secondary coach Terry Joseph.

"I think this offseason, especially in the summer, he has dedicated himself to becoming a better mental player," Secondary Coach Terry Joseph said. "In fall camp, we saw the fruits of his labor. He is really playing fast. When you see him, he has the God-given ability to be a NFL-type corner. He is big, fast, strong and he has ball skills."

But Jean-Baptiste isn't looking past what he hopes will be a big senior season.

"I like where we are going right now," he said of the Husker defense. "Everybody is coming to practice with their heads on right, and we are moving fast learning the defense. Everybody is playing hard to earn a spot."

In other words, everyone is looking for an opportunity, and Jean-Baptiste already knows how to create success from an opportunity.

WIL RICHARDS

By Maggie Still, Nebraska Media Relations

Loyalty. Motivation. Willingness to Sacrifice.

These words have been used to describe the walk-on program at Nebraska for many years, and senior Wil Richards embodies their meaning while continuing one of the Huskers' proudest traditions.

Richards walked on the team his freshman year in hopes of living out his childhood dream of playing college football.

"Carl Pelini was good friends with my high school offensive coordinator, and I was able to sit down with him a couple of times while I was in high school. He said they would be happy to have me be a part of the team," Richards said.

While acknowledging the challenges of being a walk-on, Richards has gained much from his time on the Husker roster.

"It was tough at the beginning, but being able to work my way up has been challenging, but great," he said. "Always being the low guy on the totem pole, so to speak, has given me the 'prove them wrong' mentality these past few years to work harder."

Through all of his hard work battling for playing time, Richards was named Defensive Scout Team MVP in 2011, and he has earned a valuable role on Nebraska's special teams.

"It's always been nice to be the guy that the coaches can rely on at some point whether that be offense, defense or special teams," Richards said.

This senior from Lee's Summit, Mo., has not only excelled on the field but off of it as well, twice earning spots on the academic All-Big Ten team, in addition to five combined appearances on the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete and Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Rolls.

But Richards has received more from his time at Nebraska than just an education and a chance to strap on the pads for one of college football's most storied programs.

"I gained a family," he said. "I have loved the coaches, my teammates and just the people around the entire football program here. The team is definitely like my second family."

On pace to graduate this December, Richards will take what he's learned at Nebraska and head back home to begin the next stage in his life, where he plans to pursue a career in finance.

COLBY STARKEBAUM

By Kevan Carr, Nebraska Media Relations

"There is no place like Nebraska" is a motto that rings true with thousands of Husker supporters nationwide. One who took that motto to heart is Colby Starkebaum, a second-generation Husker from Sterling, Colo.

Starkebaum grew up in rival territory surrounded by Colorado fans, but he always knew his heart belonged in Nebraska. Colby's father John played for Hall of Fame Coach Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne while earning three letters as a Husker from 1972 to 1974. With his family ties, Colby was raised to be a Husker.

"I always grew up a Nebraska fan," Starkebaum said. "It was a big rivalry. Being in Colorado, I had a lot of CU Buff fans in my class and as friends. It was always a huge rivalry, but I always loved and supported Nebraska, because my dad came here. It was a big deal to me to support Nebraska no matter where I was located."

Starkebaum said the spirit and enthusiasm surrounding the program, along with the family atmosphere, make Nebraska unlike any other place.

"It's like a giant family around here," he said. "That's one of the big things about being a Husker - it is family oriented. You always have your teammates' backs. That's really what it means to be a Husker."

With his final season beginning tonight, Starkebaum is trying to soak in every moment of his senior year, while also keeping an eye on the future.

"I think it's bittersweet," Starkebaum said of his Nebraska journey winding down. "It's exciting because the teammates that I've been with since my freshman year are all coming to a close here. It's exciting to see how far we've all come since the beginning. That's the exciting part, but on the other hand it's coming to an end. It's the closing chapter in the book."

When this chapter of Starkebaum's life does close, he doesn't plan on leaving the game behind. Instead, he hopes to become a football coach.

"I have been talking to Coach Bo (Pelini) and been trying to get into coaching somewhere in the college level," Starkebaum said. "I would like to start with that and go from there."

As a coach, Starkebaum's journey will likely take him to other states and other football programs, but to him, there will never be a place like Nebraska.

THERE IS NO PLACE.

If you listen, you'll hear them: echoes and cheers of years past. The promise and hope for seasons to come. The pride of an entire state waits to fill these seats. When this stadium is full, and the lights are lit, we will holler and yell. We will release balloons, raise shoes, throw the bones. We will be one with you.

For more than a century, the legacy of Nebraska Football has been growing. From its humble beginning in 1890 – when two games made an entire schedule – to 2013, where an established, nationally prominent program enjoys a rich history of success, Nebraska's student-athletes have entertained and excelled on all levels. Five national championships and 43 conference titles highlight the accomplishments of one of college football's most storied programs. There have been Heisman winners and Outland Trophy recipients, a nation-leading number of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, a strong tradition of success in the classroom and many professional football stars. But underlying all of the countless accolades is a football family that does not rely on wins and losses as the final indicator of excellence. Nebraska football is much more than talented athletes and coaches taking the field to play a game – it is a family. The fans, support staff and student-athletes are all dedicated to excellence through Integrity, Trust, Respect, Teamwork and Loyalty. It is this commitment on and off the field that makes Nebraska unique and assures that the rich tradition of the Huskers will keep growing for years to come.

Nebraska started the new millennium the same way it ended the last – among the nation's elite. In the 1980s and 1990s, Nebraska became the first team in the history of Division I football to post 100 wins in back-to-back decades. Since the start of the 1970s, Nebraska has posted the best record of any Division I team (413-108-5). That outstanding tradition began with Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne and continues in 2013 with Coach Bo Pelini.

Few college athletic programs can boast the national championship resume of Nebraska football. Since 1970, Nebraska has won more games than any other team in the country, captured five national championships and played for a national title in a bowl game on four other occasions. The Huskers are one of only three college football teams to win at least five national championships since 1970, and one of only seven to capture at least three titles.

MEMORIAL STADIUM

One of the "Cathedrals of College Football" according to the Sporting News, Memorial Stadium is one of the most historic and imposing locations to play in all of sports.

Memorial Stadium is routinely ranked among the top 10 stadiums in all of college football.

Memorial Stadium continues to grow as construction is completed for a project that added another 6,000 seats in time for the 2013 season, and push average attendance past the 90,000 mark.

While the stadium continues to expand, Nebraska has continued its NCAA-record streak of 325 consecutive sellouts that dates back to 1962. During the sellout streak, Nebraska has recorded a 282-43 record, including a 147-20 mark during the last 24 seasons. Nebraska was 7-0 at home in 2012.

Memorial Stadium is one of the most historic venues in all of college football. The stadium opened in 1923 and while maintaining its traditional charm, it has continued to evolve.

Construction is complete on East Stadium renovation (photo at bottom). The addition will push Nebraska's average attendance beyond 90,000. While adding more than 6,000 seats the addition will preserve the rich tradition and history of the original architecture of Memorial Stadium. In addition to new public seating and suites, the East Stadium addition will also provide improved fan amenities. The East Stadium will house approximately 50,000 square feet of research space in a joint effort between Athletics and Academics. The Nebraska Athletic Performance Lab will be on the north end of the facility and will be run by the Athletic Department, while the south end will house the Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior.

Memorial Stadium has been one of the more high-tech stadiums in college football since the addition of HuskerVision screens in 1994 (HuskerVision board pictured at bottom left). Memorial Stadium features five replay boards, including a mammoth screen atop the North Stadium (pictured at left). Nearly every fan in the stadium has a clear view of a HuskerVision screen. In 2009, the facades of the East and West balconies added ribbon boards, further adding to the fan experience at one of the nation's best sporting venues.

The home of five national championship football teams, Nebraska provides its players with every tool needed to be successful. The primary home for the football team is its locker room, which ranks among the most impressive in the country.

Each locker is made of solid maple and features a convenient storage system for equipment and is customized with an iPad. The lockers are hand-made and custom designed with individual electronic security locks and a unique ventilation system that pulls air through and out of the locker.

The design of the locker room (below) allows each athlete to have a greater amount of space and personal storage while providing a convenient location next to the equipment room. The locker room received additional upgrades as part of Ndamukong Suh's generous donation to the athletic department including iPads at each locker and underwent additional upgrades this summer.

The Hawks Championship Indoor Center (middle left) opened for the football team during spring practice in 2006. The magnificent facility features FieldTurf identical to Memorial Stadium's surface. The field also opens onto the practice fields of the Ed and Joyanne Gass Practice Facility (bottom right), which includes one grass field and one field that was converted to FieldTurf in the summer of 2010. The indoor center is connected by a skybridge to the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex to give Nebraska the best all-around football facilities in the nation.

Nebraska's meeting space more than doubled with the completion of the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex in 2006. The large team room (middle right) provides space for nearly 160 people and allows coaches to utilize the most advanced technology as it is equipped with theatre-quality sound and video systems.

The team meeting room is one of several teaching areas on the football floor, as each position coach has a meeting room (top right) directly across the hall from his office. Players and coaches each have more space to view game or practice video, giving them a greater edge in preparing for competition. Players also have a players lounge (upper right) to enjoy during their down time. The lounge is located on the football office floor and includes the latest technology while also paying tribute to Nebraska's current and past NFL success.

Nebraska's rich tradition and history of success is on display throughout Memorial Stadium (above and lower left). In addition to a national championship trophy display on the football floor, the Nebraska Football Experience Room in the Osborne Complex highlights the Huskers' three Heisman Trophy winners.

HUSKER POWER

BUILDING THE COMPLETE FOOTBALL PLAYER

The University of Nebraska football strength and conditioning staff is committed to helping each student-athlete reach his physical potential through a comprehensive approach to developing the complete football player. Through individual assessment and program design, it is our objective to increase the athletic performance of each individual athlete while reducing the risk of injury.

STRENGTH STAFF

The football strength and conditioning staff consists of five full-time coaches whose sole purpose is to train the football student-athlete. The student-athlete has a 4-5 year window to reach his potential both physically and as a football player. To do so requires the daily individual attention and interaction with the strength and conditioning staff to ensure each athlete is on the path to success.

We are committed to training the complete football player, aiming to ensure that each athlete reaches his potential. It is our job to create an atmosphere that will promote an increase in both mental and physical performance while reducing the risk of injury. Individual program design is essential in order to completely develop an athlete. Every athlete is different; every athlete has his own genetic profile, medical history and training history. We will evaluate each athlete when he comes to the University of Nebraska. It all starts with an initial physical assessment that includes evaluating the areas of strength, performance and function. When the data is collected and interpreted, a program will be designed to address the individual demands of the athlete.

COMPONENTS OF A SOUND TRAINING PROGRAM RESISTANCE TRAINING

The resistance training programs are individually designed and are focused on ground-based, three-dimensional, multi-joint movements. Ground-based exercises are done with the athlete's feet on the ground. Performing exercises with the feet on the ground mimics the athletic movements performed in football.

Three-dimensional movements are performed in all three planes of movement: side to side, up and down, and forward and backward. To accomplish this, the athlete must use free weights. Free weights will develop not only the primary muscles, but the stabilizing muscles as well.

Multi-joint exercises require the body to simultaneously move multiple joints in a coordinated effort in order to produce athletic movements.

Explosive training is essential for the game of football. The body's ability to apply force quickly will determine the athlete's success on the field. Explosive training takes the strength an athlete has and improves his ability to deliver that strength forcefully and rapidly.

CONDITIONING

It is important to condition like a football player. Football is a game that consists of short bursts of activity followed by a rest. It is important to follow this pattern when

"This incredible facility helped me earn all the honors I was so privileged to receive while I was at Nebraska. When you combine the facility with Coach Dobson and his outstanding staff, there is not a better strength and conditioning program in the country."

Ndamukong Suh
Nebraska All-American (2009)

performing conditioning drills. Position-specific conditioning also needs to be addressed.

SPEED TRAINING

The game of football is dominated by acceleration and agility and will be a focal point during speed training. Acceleration is the ability to get to top speed in the smallest amount of time possible. Acceleration is critical to the success of the football player. Agility is the ability to change direction without losing speed.

POSITION SPECIFIC TRAINING

It is important to address the specific demands each position requires to play football. Each athlete will undergo specific training sessions to address the skills and techniques needed to be successful at the position he plays. Position specific training will greatly enhance on-field performance.

THE INJURED ATHLETE

We have constant communication with the Athletic Medicine Staff in order to plan a successful training program to promote an athlete's prompt and safe return to competition.

"The University of Nebraska's Athletic Department has a history of supporting its student-athletes. Nebraska is committed to providing the best facilities, equipment and atmosphere conducive to training."

Nebraska is a hotbed for exceptional athletes to earn national honors. In 2001, Nebraska quarterback Eric Crouch became Nebraska's third Heisman Trophy winner, while also taking home the Davey O'Brien Award and the Walter Camp Player-of-the Year Award. Husker players have won a nation-leading nine Outland Trophies, five Lombardi Awards and three Heisman Trophies. In 2009, defensive tackle Ndamukong Suh became one of the nation's most decorated defensive players. Suh captured the Outland, Lombardi, Bronko Nagurski and Chuck Bednarik awards, while also being named the Associated Press College Player of the Year. He was also the first defensive lineman to be a finalist for the Heisman in 15 seasons and finished fourth in the voting for the award.

The Huskers have won four national championships in Miami, including their most recent title in the 1998 game. Nebraska added a national title in the 1996 Fiesta Bowl, one of six trips to Arizona. In Coach Bo Pelini's five years at Nebraska, the Huskers have played bowl games in Florida and California.

GAME DAY ATMOSPHERE

"I'll tell you the biggest difference between the state of Nebraska and any other state in football. I think the fan's loyalty, the noise factor that's on the field and the Sea of Red when you look out."

Brent Musburger
ESPN/ABC Commentator

"After the game, I've never heard so many positive people walking off the field. They were congratulating them on a great game, for playing hard, telling our guys good luck and that's the type of atmosphere that is great."

Pat Hill
former Fresno State Head Coach

OSPHERE

Game days at Nebraska are unlike any in college football. Fans line the streets of Lincoln waiting to enter the "Sea of Red," while the marching band parades up Stadium Drive as thousands of red-clad fans look on. The Huskers emerge from the famous "Tunnel Walk" to the sound of "Sirius" and the fans stay at a frenzied pitch until the final play of the game when they graciously cheer for the opposing players as they exit the field.

The Tunnel Walk, which began in 1994, has become an integral part of Memorial Stadium's game-day experience. The sounds of the Alan Parsons Project's "Sirius," and the roar of the nearly 90,000 frenzied fans rock the stadium as the Huskers burst through the locker room doors and into the tunnel on their way to the Memorial Stadium FieldTurf. For as long as anyone can remember, the Huskers have touched a lucky horseshoe on their way from the locker room to the field.

Nebraska fans are perhaps the most loyal in college football. The entire state follows the Huskers, along with an ever-growing national fan base, packing Memorial Stadium for every game since 1962. On Sept. 26, 2009, Nebraska fans added another chapter to their rich history by celebrating the 300th consecutive sellout of Memorial Stadium. Nebraska has extended its NCAA record sellout streak to 325 entering the 2013 season, and NU celebrated 50 years of sellouts in 2012.

In 2012, Nebraska had a season-ticket holder from 49 of the 50 states.

The success of Nebraska student-athletes reaches far beyond athletic competition. More Husker student-athletes have been selected to CoSIDA Academic All-America teams (307) than any other school in the nation, and Nebraska has produced more NCAA Top Ten Award winners (16) than any other school. As it enters its third season of Big Ten Conference competition in 2013-14, Nebraska continues to set the standard for the approximately 1,400 NCAA member institutions.

The Husker football team leads all individual sport programs in the nation with 104 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-America awards. The Notre Dame football program ranks second among all sports nationally with 58 all-time academic All-Americans. In fact, Nebraska's 104 football academic All-Americans would rank among the top 25 schools (all sports, all divisions) in the nation in the number of total CoSIDA Academic All-Americans. The NU volleyball program has captured more academic All-America awards (37) than any other women's team in the nation, while the Husker softball program ranks second on that list with 29 selections. Nebraska also ranks among the top 10 schools in the nation in CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in baseball, women's basketball and men's and women's track and field/cross country. Over the past two years, the men's and women's track and field programs have produced 10 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans - the most in the nation during that span.

HUSKERS BUILD ON ACADEMIC TRADITION IN 2012-13

Husker student-athletes produced another outstanding year in 2012-13, continuing NU's tradition of academic success. The Huskers added eight CoSIDA Academic All-Americans to their nation-leading total (307) to become the first school in history to reach 300 academic All-Americans. Nebraska's eight academic All-Americans led the Big Ten Conference and ranked among the highest totals in the nation across all divisions. NU maintained its lead of 76 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-Americans over No. 2 Notre Dame. Since 2000, Nebraska has amassed a nation-leading 117 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, which would rank in a tie for 13th over the more than 60 years of the academic All-America program. Nebraska has produced at least one academic All-American in 42 consecutive seasons.

Senior I-back Rex Burkhead captured first-team academic All-America honors for the second straight season, while senior linebacker Sean Fisher earned second-team honors for the second straight year. Fisher added a prestigious NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship.

While Burkhead and Fisher became the 25th and 26th two-time academic All-Americans in the history of the Husker football program, senior track and field student-athlete Bjorn Barrefors became the first four-time CoSIDA Academic All-American in school history. A six-time All-American as a multi-eventer, Barrefors was Nebraska's Male Student-Athlete of the Year and claimed an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. He was joined by 10-time All-American Mara Griva and Morgan Wilken in giving the track team a trio of academic All-Americans. All-America wrestler Josh Ihnen added his second straight academic All-America award, while eight-time gymnastics All-American Emily Wong captured the first academic All-America award of her career.

Gina Mancuso added a first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America award to the Husker volleyball team's nation-leading total of 37, while helping the Huskers to an NCAA Elite Eight appearance on the court.

Senior Mary Weatherholt also capped the most brilliant career on and off the court in Nebraska women's tennis history. NU's Female Student-Athlete of the Year earned All-America honors in both singles and doubles, while finishing as the runner-up at the NCAA Singles Championship. She added an Elite Eight finish with teammate Patricia Veresova at the NCAA Doubles Championship, after leading the Huskers to their first-ever NCAA Sweet 16 as a team. For her performances on the court, in the classroom and in the community, Weatherholt claimed the ITA/Cissie Leary National Award for Sportsmanship, one of the top honors in collegiate tennis.

In addition to Nebraska's continued success in creating CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, the Huskers produced a record 705 Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll selections during the fall and spring semesters of 2012-13. A total of 188 Huskers were honored as academic All-Big Ten recipients, while 105 NU student-athletes earned degrees in 2012-13.

Nebraska football is among the most recognized college programs in the nation. Television, newspapers, magazines, radio, and the Internet keep Nebraska in the national spotlight. Nebraska has been a regular stop for ESPN's College GameDay, most recently hosting the show for the USC weekend in 2007.

NEBRASKA IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Nebraska, which had all 14 games televised in 2012, has averaged more than eight television appearances per year since 1980. The Huskers' TV exposure increased with the addition of the Big Ten Network in 2011-12. The Big Ten Conference media agreements ensure that every Nebraska football game will be televised.

BTN is on the air 24 hours per day, 365 days a year. The network annually televises nearly 400 live events and streams an additional 300 plus events. Each year's schedule is comprised of approximately 40-45 football games. Every BTN football game telecast is surrounded by Big Ten Football Saturday, the network's pre-game, halftime and post-game show hosted by Dave Revsine and analysts Gerry DiNardo and Howard Griffith. In addition to live events in all sports, the network also airs numerous studio shows and classic games.

Nebraska football can be heard statewide and across the nation on the IMG Husker Sports Network. The games can also be heard on Sirius Satellite Radio and live worldwide on the Internet at Huskers.com. Approximately four million fans visit Huskers.com per month during football season.

Nebraska football has been a fixture on national television for more than 50 years, since being featured on the first-ever television broadcast of a college game by NBC on Sept. 19, 1953. Since then, the Huskers have played on TV 331 more times, including 156 appearances on ABC.

The Huskers are also often in the spotlight in the postseason, enjoying national recognition for the many bowls Nebraska has competed in recently, such as the Capital One Bowl in 2013, televised to a national audience on ABC.

Nebraska has ended the season ranked among the Associated Press Top 25 in 38 of the past 43 seasons.

"You always want to play your best, no matter who you're playing. That's why you come to Nebraska – to play in big bowl games, championship games, nationally televised games."

BIG TEN NETWORK

Headquartered in Chicago, the Big Ten Network is the first internationally distributed television network dedicated to covering one of America's premier collegiate conferences.

With more than 400 live sports events, and virtually all of them in high definition, the Big Ten Network is the ultimate destination for Big Ten fans and alumni across the country. The network is on the air 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

The network is available to an estimated 80 million households, through agreements with more than 300 cable/satellite affiliates.

In 2012, every Big Ten home football game was nationally televised. Including road and neutral games, 99 percent (95 of 96) of Big Ten games were televised nationally and the other road game appeared on ESPN3.com

BIG TEN NETWORK FACTS - MORE TELEVISION EXPOSURE

- » The Big Ten's media agreements with CBS, ABC/ESPN, Fox and BTN provide the conference with its greatest television exposure ever.
- » In 2006, the Big Ten created the first national conference-owned television network devoted to the athletic and academic programs of a single conference. The Big Ten Network launched on Aug. 30, 2007, and became the first new network in cable or satellite television history to reach 30 million homes in its first 30 days.
- » Since the current media agreements began in 2007-08, every home football and men's basketball game has been produced while women's basketball has received more coverage than any other conference.
- » The Big Ten's new media agreements have resulted in the broadcast of nearly 1,000 events nationally and regionally on an annual basis, compared to 300 events in the final year of the previous agreements.

WALK-ONS

"Loyalty. Motivation. Willingness to Sacrifice."

Tom Osborne, Hall of Fame Coach from 1973 to 1997 and Nebraska's Athletic Director from 2007 to 2012, has used those words to describe Nebraska's walk-on program.

The tradition of the Cornhusker walk-on program is one-of-a-kind in college football.

Hundreds of young men from towns in all corners of the state have come to Nebraska with big dreams. Many players have excelled beyond their biggest dreams. Head Coach Bo Pelini has made a priority of building on the past success of the Husker walk-on program.

BANK OF THE WEST

Bo Pelini
Head Coach
Sixth Season
Ohio State, 1990

BO PELINI

Head Coach Bo Pelini has assembled a Nebraska coaching staff with a championship pedigree that has strong ties to both Nebraska and Pelini's outstanding coaching background.

Pelini's success in his first five seasons as the Huskers' head coach puts him in a class with many of the elite coaches in college football's recent history.

» Pelini has guided Nebraska to at least nine wins in each of his first five seasons. Nebraska is one of only four schools to win nine or more games each season from 2008 to 2012, joining Alabama, Boise State and Oregon.

» Among schools in power conferences, Pelini is just the 11th head coach in college football history to win at least nine games in each of his first five seasons on the job at that school. The group includes three Nebraska coaches in Pelini, Tom Osborne and Bob Devaney.

» Pelini is one of only four first-time head coaches in a power conference to win nine games in each of his first five seasons. He has joined Tom Osborne, Barry Switzer and Larry Coker in that elite category.

» Pelini's 48 wins from 2008 to 2012 are easily the most among 18 head coaches who were hired for their jobs prior to the 2008 season. In fact, Pelini is one of only six coaches in the group of 18 still in the job they were hired for prior to the 2008 season.

» Pelini has guided Nebraska to at least a share of a divisional title in four of his first five seasons on the Husker sideline.

TIM BECK

- OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS
- SIXTH SEASON

An innovative coach regarded as one of the nation's finest offensive minds, Tim Beck has played a large role in Nebraska's three conference title game appearances in the past four seasons. Beck's fast-paced offense scored nearly 500 points last fall, earning him a nomination as the nation's top assistant coach. Beck is also known for his ability to quickly develop and utilize underclassmen in his offense.

Nebraska was the only Big Ten team and one of just 19 schools nationally to average 200 yards rushing and passing in 2012.

RON BROWN

- RUNNING BACKS
- 23RD SEASON

A man of integrity and principles, Ron Brown has used his nearly 30 years of collegiate coaching experience to develop not only outstanding players, but also outstanding men. The proof of his success is well documented. In addition to tremendous team success, Brown has coached 41 academic all-conference players, and 28 of his former players have gone on to professional careers.

22

Nebraska has played in a bowl game in each of Brown's first 22 seasons, including 13 BCS Bowls and seven bowl games that decided the national championship.

BARNEY COTTON

- RUN GAME COORDINATOR/TIGHT ENDS/OFFENSIVE LINE
- SEVENTH SEASON

Among his 25 years of coaching experience, veteran coach Barney Cotton owns 18 years of experience as a collegiate head coach or offensive coordinator. Cotton's offensive lines paved the way for Nebraska to appear in three conference title games in the past four seasons. Behind his run-game expertise, a different Husker I-back has earned all-conference honors in each of the past three seasons.

Under Cotton's leadership, Nebraska ranks eighth nationally with an average of 240 rushing yards per game over the last three seasons combined.

RICH FISHER

- WIDE RECEIVERS
- THIRD SEASON

A former national champion, Rich Fisher has played the lead role in developing arguably the best receiving corps in school history. Fisher's receivers have helped Nebraska post two of the top seven passing seasons in school history the past two years. Fisher has shown the ability to utilize underclassmen, as a freshman or sophomore has led NU in catches and receiving yards in each of his two seasons.

Kenny Bell has developed into an All-Big Ten receiver under Fisher's coaching, setting four Nebraska sophomore receiving records in 2012.

JOHN GARRISON

- OFFENSIVE LINE
- THIRD SEASON

John Garrison has helped NU win at least nine games in each of his five seasons on the Husker coaching staff. A former Husker lineman himself, Garrison is able to relate to his players. His close relationship with the offensive line has helped Nebraska rank in the top 15 nationally in rushing in each of the past three years, including eighth in 2012.

12

A total of 12 Husker offensive linemen have earned all-conference accolades in the five seasons Garrison has worked with the unit.

10

Under Papuchis in 2012, Nebraska ranked in the top 10 nationally in opponent completion percentage, pass defense and pass efficiency defense.

JOHN PAPUCHIS

- DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR
- SIXTH SEASON

A passionate leader, John Papuchis is one of the nation's top young coaches. Papuchis has coached in two BCS Bowl Games and five conference title games in the past eight seasons. He has also coached five defenses in the past eight seasons that have ranked in the top 10 nationally in scoring defense, including two in his past four years at Nebraska.

In only two seasons at Nebraska, Els has produced three All-Big Ten linebackers, two academic All-Americans and one first-team All-American.

ROSS ELS

- LINEBACKERS/SPECIAL TEAMS & RECRUITING COORDINATORS
- THIRD SEASON

Coaching veteran Ross Els fills a variety of roles for the Huskers. In his two years working with the Husker linebackers, Els has produced a Big Ten Linebacker of the Year and an All-American. In his first year working with Nebraska's special teams in 2012, Brett Maher was selected as the Big Ten Kicker of the Year. Els' well-rounded work has helped NU win 19 games in his first two seasons.

In his first year on staff in 2012, Joseph led a Husker secondary that held opposing quarterbacks to the nation's lowest completion percentage.

TERRY JOSEPH

- SECONDARY
- SECOND SEASON

Despite being the fourth-youngest member of Nebraska's full-time staff, Terry Joseph is coaching at his third BCS program. Following previous stops at LSU and Tennessee, Joseph was a smashing success in his first year at Nebraska in 2012. Joseph's secondary led the nation in opponent completion percentage, while ranking fourth in pass defense and ninth in pass efficiency defense.

12

In just the past five seasons, 12 defensive linemen who played collegiately for Kaczinski have gone on to play in the NFL.

RICK KACZENSKI

- DEFENSIVE LINE
- SECOND SEASON

Rick Kaczinski owns uncommon knowledge and unique experience. A former Notre Dame center and offensive line coach, Kaczinski possesses a deep understanding of line play on both sides of the ball. His extensive knowledge helped NU total 17 more TFLs in 2012 than it did in 2011. Individually, his linemen have earned 11 All-Big Ten awards in the past six seasons.

*National Champions

The Nebraska football team has continually seen players nominated — and win — major awards throughout the years, and that has certainly included All-America honorees.

Over the years, 96 Huskers have earned All-America honors, including 14 players who earned more than one honor. There have been 110 first-team awards and 46 consensus All-Americans on the Nebraska sidelines. Those players earned a total of 20 unanimous All-America honors.

The NCAA's Top 10 Award

The highest honor the National Collegiate Athletic Association can bestow on a student-athlete is The Top 10 Award (formerly the Top Eight Award). The award is based not only on outstanding athletic accomplishments, but on excellent academic records and leadership ability in community and campus activities.

In 1998, the University of Nebraska had one of its student-athletes earn the Top 10 Award, as All-America rush end Grant Wistrom was honored at the NCAA honors dinner. Wistrom's selection gave Nebraska nine Top 10 honorees in the 1990s. Two Huskers received the award in both 1990 and 1991, the only times that a school has had more than one student-athlete honored. Nine of Nebraska's Top 10 picks were football players, making the Husker grid program the most decorated in the country.

A two-time first-team academic All-American, Wistrom set the school record for tackles for loss (58.5) and was second with 26.5 career sacks. A two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, Wistrom was a consensus All-American and won NU's fourth Lombardi Award in 1997. Wistrom joined fellow Top 10 award winners Dave Rimington and Trev Alberts as NFL first-round draft picks, as Wistrom was selected by the St. Louis Rams with the No. 6 pick in the 1998 NFL Draft. Off the field, Wistrom received postgraduate scholarships from the National Football Foundation/College Football Hall of Fame and the NCAA. He was honored in 2009 as he was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame.

In the 1990s, six Husker football players were awarded the Top 10 honor, including Aaron Graham (1996), Rob Zatechka (1995), Trev Alberts (1994), Pat Tyrance (1991) and Jake Young (1990). Nebraska's success in the classroom also extends to other sports, as the Husker volleyball team boasts four winners, including 2008 winner Sarah Pavan, while three NU gymnasts (two men, one woman) have also claimed NCAA Top 10 honors.

CoSIDA Academic All-Americans

The Nebraska football team has a rich history of academic excellence, as evidenced by the team's 68 first-team College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Academic All-America certificates through the years. Fifty-three players have earned the honor, including 15 who won in multiple years, while 47 of the awards have been won in the past three decades. Four other Huskers were selected to academic All-America squads by groups other than CoSIDA, giving Nebraska a total of 72 first-team academic All-Americans. The Huskers lead the nation with 307 academic All-Americans across all sports, including 104 football selections, the most of any program in the country.

Some of the greatest names in college football coaching have been associated with the Huskers. Six Husker coaches have been inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame, including Fielding Yost (above, left), Dana X. Bible (above, right), Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne. Although not a Hall of Famer, E.O. "Jumbo" Stiehm (above, center) owns the best winning percentage for any Nebraska football coach, as his teams won 91.3 percent (35-2-3) of their games over five years.

Tom Osborne (left) and Bob Devaney (right) combined to lead Nebraska to five national titles and 28 consecutive nine-win seasons from 1970 to 1997.

The Devaney Society

Achieving greatness in both the classroom and on the playing field has long been a goal of the University of Nebraska. Our nation-leading 307 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans and 25 team national titles reflect the manner in which we strive to achieve to the highest level.

Rising costs have made funding these athletic scholarships increasingly difficult. To help offset the expenses, the University of Nebraska established an athletic scholarship endowment fund to honor Hall of Fame Football Coach Bob Devaney. For his tenacious commitment to hard work and success, we honor Coach Devaney with our commitment to establish an endowment to fund athletic scholarships at the University of Nebraska. We are sincerely grateful to those who committed to our future stability by establishing a Devaney Society Scholarship for male or female student-athletes.

Automobile dealers in Nebraska and Iowa contribute to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department and are an important part of the "Husker team."

NEBRASKA

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the primary research and doctoral degree-granting institution in Nebraska. As Nebraska's land-grant university, it serves as the flagship institution of the University of Nebraska system. Officially chartered Feb. 15, 1869, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln grew quickly to become one of the nation's leading state universities. The University of Nebraska was the first university west of the Mississippi River to form a graduate school (1893) and to offer the Ph.D. (1896).

Today UNL ranks among the top 50 institutions awarding the most doctoral degrees. It is a major research university, ranked in the top 20 among public universities for total endowment assets and new gifts. It is home to top researchers in such areas as plant genomics, remote sensing technologies, molecular virology, bioinformatics, food processing, early childhood education and nanoscale technology.

The university's missions are teaching, research and public service. Approximately 24,600 students matriculate through its nine colleges: Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Human Sciences, Engineering, Hixson-Lied Fine and Performing Arts, Journalism and Mass Communications and Law.

A new curriculum, Achievement-Centered Education, launched in 2009, ensures graduates are competent in writing, communications and mathematics; have knowledge of diverse peoples and cultures and of the natural and physical world; understand ethics and social responsibilities; and are able to integrate these abilities to adapt to a changing world. Among UNL's signature undergraduate programs are the Jeffrey S. Raikes School of Computer Science and Management, the UNL Honors Program and the Undergraduate Creative Activities and Research Experiences program.

UNL students participate in comprehensive programs of research as well as scholarly and creative activities. UNL offers 157 undergraduate majors, 79 master's degree programs under 15 separate degree titles and 43 doctoral programs, leading to the degrees of doctor of philosophy, doctor of education and doctor of musical arts. One associate degree program, six professional degree programs and three educational specialist programs are available.

Notable buildings on campus include the June and Paul Schorr III Center for Computer Science and Engineering, housed in the former South Stadium office complex and donated to the university by the Nebraska Athletic Department. The Ken Morrison Life Sciences Research Center, dedicated in 2008, houses laboratories and offices for the Nebraska Center for Virology. The Whittier Building, a former junior high, has been completely restored for use as a research facility. The new Theodore Jorgensen Hall is the home of UNL's Physics and Astronomy department. A building for nanoscience research came online in 2011.

Faculty members at UNL have earned wide recognition as scholars and scientists. Professor of English Ted Kooser is a Pulitzer-prize winning poet and was the U.S. Poet Laureate (2004-06). James Van Eetten, professor of plant pathology, is a member of the National Academy of Sciences. Political scientist John Hibbing, a leader in the cutting-edge study of the role of biology in shaping people's political temperaments, was named a Guggenheim Fellow in 2013. English professor Ken Price is creating an internationally significant web-based archive of the works of Walt Whitman, and recently found an unknown cache of Whitman materials in the National Archives. Geoscientists Frank Rack and David Harwood are leading an international team of scientists drilling beneath the Antarctic ice to recover sedimentary cores, revealing information about Antarctica's climate history and about the global climate machine. Dennis Molfese, director of UNL's Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior, is leading a Big Ten/Ivy League consortium to study the effect of head injuries in sports. Nebraska Center for Virology Director Charles Wood is discovering how HIV transmits from infected mothers to children in Zambia. The multimillion-dollar Diocles Extreme Light Laboratory is putting UNL at the forefront of international high-field physics and laser research. Diocles will enable UNL physicists to create conditions similar to those at the core of the sun to study matter and energy in new ways. Another team of UNL physicists played a significant role in the development of the Large Hadron Collider and the July 2012 discovery of the long-theorized Higgs boson particle.

The multi-million-dollar Diocles Extreme Light Laboratory and physicist Donald Umstadter are putting UNL at the forefront of international high-field physics and laser research. Diocles will enable UNL physicists to create extreme conditions in the laboratory, similar to those at the core of the sun, to study matter and energy in new ways. Another team of UNL physicists has played a significant role in the development of the Large Hadron Collider. The largest physics experiment in history, the collider operates near Geneva, Switzerland.

The university reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The UNL Extension Division provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. An extensive Extended Education and Outreach program offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and NUTech Ventures expedites university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes. Work is under way at Nebraska Innovation Campus, which is envisioned as a public-private sector research campus.

UNL is home to the renowned Sheldon Museum of Art, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art, the Robert Hillestad Textiles Gallery and several other museums, including the University of Nebraska State Museum of natural history, which boasts a world-class fossil collection. In spring 2008, the university opened the International Quilt Study Center and Museum. The facility displays the largest publicly held collection of historic quilts and is supports research into quilts and quiltmakers.

Among the university's renowned alumni are naturalist and author Loren Eiseley; Nobel prize-winners George Beadle, Donald Cram and Alan Heeger; artists Aaron Douglas and Weldon Kees; investor Warren Buffett; comedian Johnny Carson; singer Barbara Hendricks; artist and engineer Harold Edgerton; military officer John J. Pershing; and authors Willa Cather and Mari Sandoz.

CB3 TO FORGE NEW UNDERSTANDINGS OF BRAIN FUNCTION

UNL.EDU | BY ASHLEY WASHBURN

For scientists studying how the brain behaves, there is no place like Nebraska.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln's new Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior brings together top-notch researchers from diverse disciplines and state-of-the-art equipment to uncover mysteries about brain functioning and how it affects human behavior. Research will range from the heritability of social attitudes and the neurological basis of decision-making to better understanding brain injuries and other cognitive impairments.

The center boosts the unique capability to simultaneously capture functional magnetic resonance imaging (fMRI), record brain electrical activity and track eye movement.

"We can capture three distinctly different kinds of imaging information simultaneously," said UNL psychologist Dennis Molfese, the center's director. "No other lab in the world can do all these things at the same time on the same person."

Information gleaned from the center's unique combination of brain imaging and cognitive assessment equipment could provide groundbreaking findings about brain function's influence on how people make decisions, learn or even develop addictions. More than 230 faculty and students have been trained to use brain imaging equipment.

Concussion research is a cornerstone of the center's work. Molfese, an international expert in brain imaging, and other UNL researchers are studying how the brain functions and processes information before and after concussions. They're focusing on athletes but this research could improve treatment for other head injuries. Annually, 10.1 million Americans suffer traumatic brain injuries.

Molfese and athletics researchers are capturing high-resolution images of players' brains before they even step onto the field. These images, paired with a complete history of previous head injuries, will give sports medicine professionals a baseline for determining the extent of injury if a concussion occurs.

"People always want to know when a player will be back to normal," Molfese said. "You can't truly determine that unless you know what someone's brain looked like before the injury occurred."

The center is part of the more than 50,000-square-foot addition to East Stadium. Its 48 research rooms and commons area provide collaborative space for faculty to work closely on projects that overlap disciplines. It's adjacent to the Nebraska Athletics Performance Lab to encourage collaboration on joint health and performance research.

Prem Paul, vice chancellor for research and economic development, said the research and athletics partnership positions UNL to be a national leader in the field. "No place else in the country will have the combination of cutting-edge equipment, research leadership and strong ties with athletics."

The partnership laid the groundwork for Molfese to coordinate the Big Ten Conference/Ivy League collaboration to study sports-related head injuries. Neurologists, biologists, sports medicine specialists, trainers, physicians and other experts from participating institutions are developing baselines for assessing injury, making recommendations to improve student-athletes' safety and creating a shared database for concussion research findings.

With the Big Ten and Ivy League's 17,500 combined student athletes, the group's science-based findings could inform collegiate athletics worldwide.

Molfese, the Mildred Francis Thompson Professor of Psychology, also serves on the prestigious National Academy of Sciences Committee on Sports-Related Concussions in Youth. ■

Commitment to Compliance

On behalf of the University of Nebraska student-athletes, coaches and Athletics Department staff, I would like to express my appreciation for your continued support of our entire athletics program.

The University of Nebraska is known for its loyal, passionate, and knowledgeable fans. It is this type of fervent support that not only assists Nebraska student-athletes in reaching their full potential on and off the playing field, but also draws the next generation of student-athletes to our campus. However, as a University of Nebraska booster, please remember that you are also required to know and follow NCAA regulations.

Our coaches, student-athletes, and Athletics Department staff members are knowledgeable about NCAA regulations because they receive on-going education. But, to truly attain the excellence the University of Nebraska strives for, we also need our supporters to be educated about these same regulations. In turn, you will be assisting us with protecting the eligibility and well-being of our current and future student-athletes.

Please review the information listed on the right side of this page which includes some of the most important and frequently asked questions about NCAA regulations for boosters. Since this document cannot address everything you may need to know, I encourage you to contact our office with questions that may arise. Our staff can be reached at 402-472-2042 or Compliance@Huskers.com.

Thank you and Go Huskers!

Jamie Vaughn, Associate Athletic Director for Compliance

NCAA Principles

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA and the Big Ten Conference. Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

Shawn Eichorst was named the 14th Director of Athletics of the University of Nebraska by Chancellor Harvey Perlman on Oct. 4, 2012. Eichorst leads a tradition-rich athletic program of 24 varsity athletic teams, 600-plus student-athletes and more than 275 full-time employees. Eichorst succeeded legendary Nebraska football coach and Athletic Director Tom Osborne and officially assumed his duties on January 3rd, 2013.

"I am honored to have the opportunity to join the University of Nebraska family," Eichorst said. "Nebraska is an outstanding academic institution with one of the strongest athletic departments in all of college sports," Eichorst said. "Most importantly, everyone here is committed to keeping the welfare of our student-athletes at the heart of everything we do. I am humbled by the responsibility and opportunities that lie ahead and will work diligently to carry on the rich tradition of Husker excellence set forth by Coach Osborne and so many others."

Nebraska Chancellor Harvey Perlman said it was Eichorst's commitment to putting student-athletes first that made Eichorst stand out.

"When I asked him how I would be able to measure his success if he were here five years from now," Perlman said, "his response was that if the coaches and student-athletes had been successful and nobody knows his name, it would be a success."

Although his preference is to serve and lead diligently from the background, Eichorst has already canvassed the state promoting Husker Athletics and Nebraska's tremendously talented student-athletes making more than 70 appearances across Nebraska and visiting eight other states in just his first seven months. Eichorst emphasizes academics first and is proud to acknowledge Nebraska's nation-leading 307 Academic All-Americans, including eight who earned the honor in 2012-13. In fact, he has invited all of the academic honor winners back to campus for a reunion in November. He has met with each college dean on campus and uses his monthly radio show and his Connecting on Campus column to promote campus, coach and student-athlete academic and community successes. More than 200 Husker student-athletes were honored at the academic recognition banquet this spring while 138 were named Academic All-Big Ten in 2012-13.

During Eichorst's first semester at Nebraska in the spring of 2013, women's bowling, coached by legend Bill Straub, won a national title and Rhonda Revelle's softball team advanced to the Women's College World Series.

The women's basketball team, coached by Connie Yori, completed a run to the Sweet 16 for the second time in program history and the women's tennis team, coached by Scott Jacobson, made an appearance in the NCAA Sweet 16 for the first time in program history and earned a share of the Big Ten title. Tennis player Mary Weatherholt finished runner-up at the NCAA Individual Singles Championship, the highest-ever finish for a Nebraska tennis player.

In addition to women's tennis, two other Nebraska teams added Big Ten titles in the spring of 2013, as the women's gymnastics team, coached by Dan Kendig, won its second-straight Big Ten title and third-straight conference title overall. The men's track and field team, coached by Gary Pepin, claimed the outdoor team title.

This fall, three facility projects will be completed: Memorial Stadium, which expands to accommodate more than 90,000 football fans and will include the Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) and the Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3) research facilities; Pinnacle Bank Arena in downtown Lincoln, where the Husker men's and women's basketball teams will be permanent tenants; and the renovated Bob Devaney Sports Center, where volleyball, men's and women's gymnastics and the wrestling team will now compete. Construction for each of these three facilities began with Coach Osborne at the helm. Athletic Director Emeritus Osborne continues to provide Eichorst with counsel on a number of items including the East Stadium research initiatives. The collaborative research that will take place within an athletic facility shared by academics and athletics is believed to be the first of its kind and sets the tone for the leadership role Nebraska has taken in the Big Ten Conference and nationally.

Eichorst came to Nebraska after spending 18 months as the Director of Athletics at the University of Miami. He was named the 12th Director of Athletics at Miami on April 12, 2011 and served until Oct. 4, 2012 when he was hired by Nebraska as a Special Assistant to Chancellor Perlman.

In his first year as Director of Athletics at Miami, Eichorst helped grow the academic reputation as well as the fan base. Under his watchful eye, the Hurricane Club grew by more than 500 members, surpassing 5,000 members nationwide. More than $19 million in student-athlete support was generated in 2011-12 and an additional $14.2 million in capital gifts was raised toward the new Center for Athletic Excellence facility, scheduled for completion in the fall of 2013.

During his tenure, both the Hurricane men's and women's basketball programs advanced to the postseason, with the women posting the highest national ranking in school history at No. 5, advancing to the NCAA Second Round. The women's tennis team advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals for the fourth straight season and the baseball program extended its NCAA postseason appearances streak to 40 consecutive seasons. The women's soccer team posted the first NCAA postseason win in program history, while the volleyball team advanced to the NCAA postseason for the third straight year and finished the season ranked 15th in the nation.

Before his appointment at Miami, Eichorst served from 2009 to 2011 as the Deputy Athletics Director at the University of Wisconsin, where his responsibilities under Director of Athletics Barry Alvarez included serving as the department's Chief Operating Officer and overseeing the day-to-day operations of the highly successful athletics program. At Wisconsin, Eichorst was involved in the design and planning of a new ice hockey and swimming facility completed in the fall of 2012, as well as with the Student-Athlete Performance Center in the north end zone of Camp Randall Stadium. He joined the Badgers' staff in 2006 as a Senior Associate Athletics Director and was promoted to Executive Associate Athletics Director in 2007.

Eichorst has experience with three BCS conference institutions previously serving as University of South Carolina's Senior Associate Athletics Director for Administration from 2004 to 2006. With the Gamecocks, Eichorst oversaw daily operations of the department and supervised the football and baseball programs. The football team was bowl-eligible each year during Eichorst's tenure, and the baseball program competed in the 2004 College World Series. Additionally, he coordinated and supervised multi-million dollar facility projects, including a state-of-the-art football training facility.

Eichorst served as the Director of Athletics at his alma mater, University of Wisconsin-Whitewater until 2003. Under his tenure, UW-Whitewater developed into one of the nation's top Division III athletic programs, with four top 10 percent National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Directors Cup finishes; one NCAA team championship; two NCAA team runner-up finishes and five individual national champions. The program also featured 38 Academic All-America selections, seven NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners and 74 All-Americans.

A native of Lone Rock, Wis., Eichorst was an all-conference defensive back, a three-time letterwinner and 1990 team captain for the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater football team. He graduated magna cum laude in business from UW-Whitewater in 1990 and earned a law degree from Marquette University in 1995. He practiced law in Milwaukee before accepting the position at Wisconsin-Whitewater.

He is a past member of the NCAA Division I Student-Athlete Reinstatement Committee and State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors. He also previously served as an assistant adjunct professor of law at Marquette University Law School, where he taught classes in sports law. He currently serves on the Marquette University National Sports Law Institute Board of Advisors.

In 2006, he was awarded the Sports Law Alumnus of the Year by Marquette. He also is a graduate of the Sports Management Institute and serves on its Executive Committee.

Eichorst and his wife Kristin have three sons: Jack, Joseph and Bennett.

DAUGHTER: DEVANEY BROUGHT THE WHOLE STATE TOGETHER

By Randy York

When Nebraska lured Bob Devaney away from Wyoming, he became one of this state's most popular historical figures because he won immediately, and he won big. He took the Huskers where they'd never been before – to the very top. "I thought Ben Nelson said it best at my dad's memorial service," offered up Pat Devaney, the daughter of Nebraska's late head football coach. "Governor Nelson said my dad's legacy wasn't about football. It was about making Nebraska No. 1 in something in the country. It gave everybody a sense of pride and accomplishment, especially when so many of the players were from Nebraska. So there was a sense of ownership. Nebraska was the only Division I college football team in the state, and it brought the whole state together. It was a unifying force. Nobody had anything to argue about. It wasn't political, and I think Governor Nelson said it very well. In fact, until I heard him say it, I never quite got it. I was totally mystified about all of the hullabaloo. I think it's true that dad's legacy isn't really about football. It's about a man coming into a state that had a little bit of an inferiority complex and showing everyone that they could compete with the best of teams from California to New York. All of a sudden, there they are. They won, and they won on their own terms. There was no handout. My dad always felt that if he hadn't done that, somebody else would have because Nebraska has the hardest working people in the country. To him, it was never personal. He loved this state, and it loved him."

Devaney's pinnacle of back-to-back 1970-71 national championships indeed generated an epic power surge and created a new, refreshing statewide mindset – a proud, pounding, pleasing pursuit of excellence. Nebraska celebrates Devaney's monumental legacy in a season-opener matching the only two Division I institutions Devaney ever served as head coach – the Wyoming Cowboys and the Nebraska Cornhuskers. "How apropos can it get to unveil a statue of my dad the day before Wyoming plays Nebraska in Memorial Stadium?" asked Mike Devaney, who's in Lincoln this weekend with his son, Rob, to represent their late father and grandfather in the formal dedication of that statue outside Gate 20. With the Tom Osborne/Brook Berringer statue greeting Husker fans in the North Stadium entrance, who else but Devaney would welcome fans at the expanded East Stadium entrance? Devaney is, after all, the Hall-of-Fame coach who "built" Memorial Stadium into what it became. He also blazed new trails for African-American student-athletes as a coach and then carried a big torch for female student-athletes as Nebraska's athletic director.

Omaha artist Joe Putjenter molded and sculpted the statue, which features Devaney wearing his familiar letter jacket with his cap on and a whistle hanging around his neck while he's holding a clipboard in his left hand. "I think they've taken about 20 years off of dad and maybe a good 20 pounds," said Mike Devaney with a voice and laugh that you would swear was Bob's if you closed your eyes and listened. "Dad would say the same thing. It's a nice tribute and relates to what he's known for – being a football coach. It's a unique symbol, and we're just as happy to see the Devaney Center become a world-class facility at the same time. Dad would be happy and humble with all of it. I think the biggest change he made at Nebraska was making football fun again. He shortened practices, was very organized and knew how to motivate players in his own unique way."

Eichorst Gets Unanimity for Devaney Statue

One of the first items of business for new Nebraska Director of Athletics Shawn Eichorst was to recognize prominently and pay tribute to Bob Devaney at Memorial Stadium. "Coach Devaney led the charge and laid a solid foundation for the future success of Nebraska Athletics," Eichorst said. After quietly consulting with UNL Chancellor Harvey Perlman, other leaders and the Devaney family, Eichorst commissioned a statue to be built and placed at the east entrance to Memorial Stadium's most historic gate. Through that gate, of course, pass college football's most loyal fans who sold out the Missouri game in Devaney's first year as Nebraska's head coach in 1962 and have gone on to sell out 326 consecutive games, an ongoing NCAA record.

Having Devaney's statue in front of what is believed to be the only joint on-campus academic and athletic research facility in intercollegiate athletics is appropriate in another meaningful way. Devaney hand-picked Osborne to succeed him as head coach, bypassing several coaches on his staff who went on to become head coaches themselves. "I don't think you could find two people who live their lives so much differently in so many ways," Mike Devaney said of his dad and Osborne, who helped spearhead the one-of-a-kind research facility. "Dad respected Tom for who he was, and I think Tom respected dad for who he was. They had a lot of respect for each other and what they could accomplish together. They never once stepped on each other's beliefs or personal lives at all, and they both had a strong sense of loyalty to each other."

Pat Devaney, a retired Stanford dean, is now on the board of the Stanford Historical Society. She leads the charge for their oral history program to "tell the stories about the old days of Stanford and how we've gone from good to great," she said, adding that she has no doubt about how her dad took Nebraska from the depths of football despair to greatness in less than a decade and how that became the trigger to unify Nebraska's statewide pride.

The Head Coach Carries Nebraska's Pressure

To this day, Pat laughs about her dad being voted the most popular person in the state when he was an athletic director and insists that her dad's ability to laugh at himself was a big part of his skill to unify. "I think it was Governor (Frank) Morrison who came up to my dad and told him that he was gaining on him as the most popular man in the state," she recalled. Her dad's response set the record straight. "Hey, don't kid yourself," Devaney told Morrison. "Tom Osborne would have been way ahead of both of us in that poll if he had beaten Oklahoma this year."

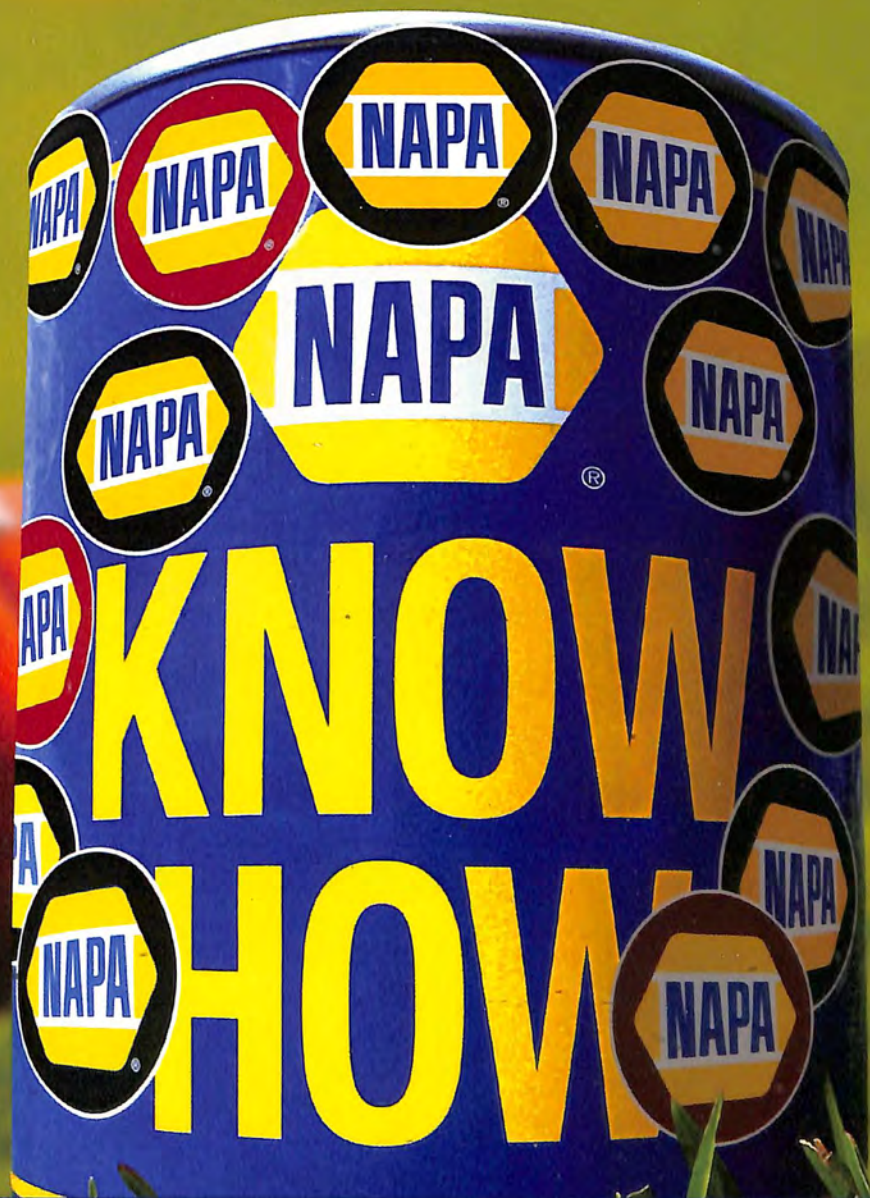

Mike Devaney, a successful businessman based in Scottsdale, Ariz., says his dad's humor is a spinoff from Duffy Daugherty, his college football mentor at Michigan State. "Duffy used to call my dad the Pied Piper, and I think that's what he was. He could sit down and talk to anybody. He could be singing Irish songs in a pub with his friends or he could be in a kid's home singing hymns with his mom. Dad always seemed to know what to do at the right time. It's pretty amazing what Nebraska was in the 40 years before he got here and what they've been since he arrived."

In the last 50 years, Nebraska leads all Division I football schools in terms of overall wins. The Huskers have won 40 more games than Oklahoma, the No. 2 team in that category over the last half century. Why is Nebraska's record so remarkable? Because in the 21 years prior to Devaney's arrival, the Huskers experienced only three winning seasons. No wonder his daughter was in such a hullabaloo trying to figure out what spurred such a dramatic turnaround. When her dad brought his coaches to Lincoln to inspire a new team and pull a whole state together, Big Red football became the ultimate benchmark, and really, in the minds of many, it still is.

Bob Devaney posted a 35-10-5 record in five seasons as Wyoming's head coach from 1961 to 1967, before compiling a 101-20-2 record and winning two national championships at Nebraska from 1962 to 1972.
